No Such Thing As a Bad Kid: The Power of a Strength-Based Approach in Reshaping the Lives of Troubled Children and Youth

Strength-based practice is an emerging approach to helping at-risk youth and their families that is exceptionally positive and inspiring. Its focus is on strength-building rather than flaw-fixing. It begins with the belief that every individual has or can develop strengths and utilize past successes to mitigate problem behavior and enhance functioning. This comprehensive workshop will highlight many of the key principles and techniques of this transforming modality.

XXX-ploitation                      $ 50                      $ 60

XXX-ploitation and Expendable People

The issue of human trafficking is one that spans the globe. It is an equal opportunity crime that generates billions of dollars to those purveyors of flesh. The crime of modern day slavery exists in every corner of our world and touches every aspect of our lives. From child labor, to the lucrative sex trade, we see younger and younger victims fall prey to the coercion of traffickers. Identification, educations, and awareness for law enforcement, the community, and schools is paramount in order to attempt to combat the ills that befall our society.
